

FOOD AND SAFETY SUMMIT 2017

Chicago, IL- April 2017

On Thursday, April 20, 2017, Samuel Baker, (Chicago Sales) and Andy Schwartz, (CEO) attended Henkel's North America Food Safety Packaging Forum held at Drake Hotel.

Food Safety and Quality is an increasing global concern for consumers and manufacturers alike. It has manifested itself in increased food safety requirements with retailers, heightened expectations from food and beverage packers, and new legislation such as Food Safety Modernization Act. It affects the entire food and beverage supply chain, including packaging material suppliers.

The forum included presentations from well recognized, industry leading companies across different sectors, as well as technical experts from Henkel. The full day event was successful in raising awareness and advancing Food Safety in packaging and learning best practices.
